

Everyone plays a part.

Everyone plays a part in helping to create Austin's premier performing arts center. Built by and for Austinites, the Long Center will offer a much needed home for our major performing arts groups, an exciting showcase venue for Texas' popular artists and more than 200 small and minority organizations, as well as educational opportunities for area school children. Located near scenic Town Lake, the Long Center will be one of our State Capital's most vibrant cultural attractions and a viable economic resource. Your role is vital. Play your part and contribute now.
